

At the library

Attention jigsaw puzzle lovers! Got any old puzzles lying around and want to get rid of them? The Calhoun Memorial Library would be more than happy to take them off your hands.

The library will have a table at Harvest Fest, set for Sat., Sept. 14, and would like to have jigsaw puzzles to sell. The library will take puzzles made for all ages and skill set. The puzzles may be dropped off at the library.

Please note, if the puzzle does not have all its pieces, please do not donate. As any dedicated dissectologist (that's a puzzle enthusiast to you and me) knows, puzzles without all its pieces is the absolute worst. So, please check to make sure your donations are complete.

Besides jigsaw puzzles, table offerings include books for adults and children, as well as audiobooks and movies. The table will be manned by the Chetek Friends of the Library, which is a nonprofit organization comprised of volunteers that, through fundraising events, uses the proceeds for library improvements and adult, teen and children's programming such as Trunk or Treat, River Valley Raptors, author visits and crafting supplies.

On the topic of visiting authors, mark Tuesday, Sept. 10 on your calendars for the Calhoun Memorial Library has a local author, K.M. Waldvogel, coming in to speak about the American Revolution.

The event starts promptly at 5:30 p.m.

Waldvogel's presentation will be on the roles women played in achieving America's independence from Great Britain, be it as spies, message couriers, soldiers or saboteurs. Waldvogel will also detail her writing process, from the researching to the writing, editing and publication.

The event is free and will include refreshments.

Anyone who likes to line dance, or wants to learn how, is invited to attend the Try It Club's Thursday, Sept. 12 meeting. This is a great opportunity to have fun, get some exercise and heck, yeah, get jiggy with it to the tunes of country western music. RSVP by stopping in or calling 715-924-3194 and a staff member will add your name to the list of attendees.

Please note, this meeting will be held at The Center, 711 First St., and begins at 6 p.m.
